VOLUME 3.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, AUG. 8, 1912.

NO. 57.

NORMAL WILL CLOSE

FRIDAY WILL BE LAST DAY OF THE SUMMER TERM.

SIX GET LIFE DIPLOMAS

No Closing Exercises, as the School Holds Only One Commencement Each Year—Picnic Abandoned.

The summer term of the Normal will close Friday, after a most successful term, and one that was largely attended. Examinations were given this week.

There are six who will receive the life diploma. They are Miss Iva Ward of Mound City, Miss Pearl Ross of Moberly, W. J. Brett of Maryville, John Davis of Maryville, John T. Boyle of Meriden, Kan., and Miss Ethel Breeden of Amity, Mo. A list of those receiving two-year certificates will be announced Friday.

No closing exercises will be held Friday of this term, as there is only one graduating exercises held a year, and that is in May.

At the Normal chapel this morning all the students attending the school promised to help out in agitating the mill tax amendment, which is to be voted on in November. The amendment means a great deal for the schools over the state.

President Taylor announced Thursday that owing to the wet weather no picnic by the boy students of the Normal would be held Thursday night.

RETURNED FROM CHICAGO.

F. P. Robinson, a Delegate to Progressive Convention, Came Home Thursday.

F. P. Robinson of this city, who was a delegate to the Progressive convention at Chicago this week, returned home Thursday morning. The Progressive party ticket is Roosevelt for president and Hiram Johnson of California for vice president. Mr. Robinson says the convention was largely attended, and the new party starts out under most favorable conditions. Thomas Fleming of Graham also attended the convention.

Mr. Robinson stated that a convention would be held soon in Nodaway county to select a county ticket for the Progressive party. The state convention to select a state ticket will be held in St. Louis on September 3. Delegates from Nodaway county will be selected at the county convention to be held the latter part of this month.

BOOHER'S MAJORITY 1,105.

Unofficial Returns Gave the Congressman the Nomination by a Good Vote.

Unofficial returns received at Congressman Booher's headquarters in Savannah late Wednesday night gave the congressman the nomination by a majority of 1,105 over B. R. Martin. The following was the vote: Booher carried Platte county by 400, Atchison county by 384, Holt county by 67, Andrew county by 888, Nodaway county by 72, and Buchanan county outside of St. Joseph by 149, making a total of 1,960. Mr. Martin carried the city of St. Joseph by 855, giving Congressman Booher a majority of 1,105.

Mr. Martin put up a good race for congressman, and since he was defeated, he is strongly now for Booher.

The Horrible Example.

"My dear," said Mrs. Strongmind, "I want you to accompany me to the town hall tomorrow evening."

"What for?" queried the meek and lowly other half of the combine.

"I am to lecture on the 'Dark Side of Married Life,'" explained Mrs. S., "and I want you to sit on the platform and pose as one of the illustrations."—Tit-Bits.

SHOULD HAVE GONE DEEPER.

Geologist Told Hopkins People Indications Are Very Favorable.

The Hopkins Journal had the following:

The state geologist, Col. Beuhler of Jefferson City, was in Hopkins last week and spoke very favorably of the indications from the drilling of the deep well here.

He thinks if the hole had been sent down 200 feet deeper, the people would have been very agreeably surprised at the find.

The vein of coal struck is so good that there is talk of a company being formed to go down after it.

One well known Hopkins man offers to invest a thousand dollars and a well known farmer, east of town, offers to double this amount if a company is formed, so it seems that the prospecting proposition is not dead after all.

RURAL SCHOOL PROBLEM.

Is Solved in Consolidation of the District Schools.

Writers on educational problems from one end of the country to the other are endorsing the consolidation idea for public rural schools. In those states where the consolidated school has been tried for a year or more there cannot be found a resident in any of the districts which are served to raise his voice in complaint.

The consolidated school has by this unity an ample school fund and obviously good teachers and all modern facilities for teaching. The building itself has all the advantages for comfort and health found in city buildings. The courses include practical farming, and when the student has completed his education he is of service to himself and his parents at once.

The consolidated school has bettered social conditions. The comfortable school rooms furnish splendid meeting places for the men and women of the district. Socials are held in the evenings and music and dancing frequently enliven the residents. Missouri will have consolidated schools with the adoption of the school mill tax. The rural schools have been neglected in this state, but with the mill tax in action Missouri will be able to hold her head as high as any other in the Union.

TYPEWRITER VS. SHORTHAND.

Miss Tarr Copied Governor Wilson's 6,500-Word Speech in an Hour and a Half.

Seagirt, N. J.—From his own shorthand notes, Governor Wilson a few days ago dictated his speech of acceptance of sixty-five hundred words to an 18-year-old girl in less than one hour and a half. The stenographer was Miss Salome Lanning Tarr of 513 Jersey avenue, Jersey City, who has made half a dozen speed records in contests with the best shorthand writers in the country.

Miss Tarr went to the office of Walter Measday, the nominee's campaign secretary, at 5 o'clock in the morning, and before noon she delivered typewritten copies of the speech to the governor. In making a final revision of the speech, Governor Wilson found Miss Tarr had made only a few slight errors. Her stenographic record is 230 words a minute.—New York World.

OIL LANDS MAY BE RECOVERED

GOVERNMENT PUSHING CLAIM AGAINST SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Property Worth $18,000,000 Was Turned Over to Railroad as Non-Mineral, Without Inspection.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Amazing details of the examination which resulted in releasing for occupancy by the Southern Pacific of $18,000,000 worth of California oil lands in 1904 were given by Edwin C. Ryan, former special agent for the United States general land office before the government special examiner in the case against the Southern Pacific and other companies for the recovery of the lands.

Ryan said that without seeing the ground he reported that 18 sections in one township in the Kern river field should be released from suspension of entry, although at the time there were nearly 100 producing oil wells on the remaining 18 sections of the township.

Before making a report he came to Washington. It was then that he received the verbal instructions to report a mineral classification only on lands in which he found wells producing oil in paying quantities.

After the Ryan reports went in, the Southern Pacific filed agricultural claims for final patent on the 6,109-acre tract involved in the suit in September, 1904.

Willis N. Mills, assistant attorney general in charge of the oil case for the government, states that Ryan's testimony has shattered the defense that the government is precluded from recovering the lands because it had passed on them as non-mineral after examination and is now bound by that act.

The hearings were adjourned until September 4 at San Francisco.

Embezzling Officer Suicides.

Philadelphia, Aug. 8.—Sitting in a day coach in a Pennsylvania train beside a constable in whose custody he was returning to Westchester, Pa., to face the charge of embezzlement, Col. Gibbons Gray Cornwell, commander of the sixth regiment, Pennsylvania national guards, placed the muzzle of a revolver in his mouth and blew out his brains.

CHICKENS HAVE THE GOIT.

High Living is Said to Have Crippled This Year's Hatching.

St. Louis—Missouri chickens, than which there are no better in the world, are limping about their barnyards these days—some merely with a pained look in their eyes, others cackling aloud in their trials, and some scratching about for wood that might suffice as a crutch. They have the goit.

That is vouched for by a report to the state department of husbandry which shows the crop of spring chickens is being considerably reduced by the propensity of the elders to live too high.—New York Evening Telegram.

Beautiful is the Earth.

God has made this world very fair. He fashioned it in beauty when there was no eye to behold it but His own. All along the wild forest he has carved the forms of beauty. Every hill and dale and tree and landscape is a picture of beauty. Every cloud and mist-wreath and vapor-vell is a shadowy reflection of beauty. Every spring and rivulet, every river and lake and ocean is a glassy mirror of beauty. Every diamond and rock and pebbly beach is a mine of beauty. Every sea and planet and star is a blazing face of beauty. All along the aisles of earth, all over the arches of heaven, all through the expanse of the universe are scattered in rich and infinite profusion the life germs of beauty. All natural motion is beauty in action. From the mote that plays its little frolic in the sunbeam to the world that blazes along the sapphire spans of the firmament are visible the ever-varying features of the enrapturing spirit of beauty.—Anonymous.

TURKISH REVOLUTION BEGINS

SOLDIERS IN THE GARRISON AT OKHRIDA MUTINY.

Commandant Gives Notice That He Will Lead Army Against Constantinople.

Salonica, Turkey, Aug. 8.—The Turkish gendarmes in the garrison at Okhrida, Albania, mutinied and their commander, General Djemalrey, declared war in the name of the young Turks against the present government.

The commandant gave notice that he would lead an army against Constantinople and issued a proclamation calling upon all loyal young Turks to join his standard.

The rebels will attempt to force the abdication of the present sultan, who took the throne when the young Turks rose up against Abdul Hamid's regime several years ago.

Gen. Djemalrey issued orders to his followers to slay without quarter all the present Turkish authorities.

Reports reaching here from other quarters throughout European Turkey state that the revolutionary movement is concerted and that young Turks' leaders are rallying troops at a number of different places.

The present movement against the government is an outgrowth of the conduct of the war against Italy. It has been hastened by the tyrannical treatment of Turkish subjects by Turkish officials throughout European Turkey.

Okhrida lies on the north bank of Lake Okhrida and has a population of 14,000. It is 100 miles north of Janina and an important trading post.

IT'S ROOSEVELT AND JOHNSON

Progressive Party Names Two First Candidates in its History.

WERE NOTIFIED AND ACCEPTED

Prefix "National" in Name of New Political Body, is Dropped—Platform Adopted Omits Negro Question.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Singing "Onward Christian Soldier," and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the delegates to the first national convention of the Progressive party proclaimed Theodore Roosevelt of New York as their candidate for president and Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California as their choice for vice-president.

Marking a new departure in the proceedings of national conventions, the two candidates immediately were informally notified of their nomination, and in the midst of deafening cheers appeared before the delegates to voice their acceptance and to pledge their best efforts to the coming campaign.

The party formally christened itself "The Progressive Party," leaving out the prefix "national," by which it has heretofore been known, but provision was made for the recognition of "real" Progressives in any of the states by whatever name they should be locally designated because of state laws.

Debated Over Recess.

As has always been the case in national political conventions, the bulk of the work of the Progressive gathering was carried on in the committees. The only semblance of a conflict of opinion on the floor was a brief debate as to whether an hour's recess should be taken. The point was not material, but as one delegate expressed it, "we just had to fight about something to make it a regular convention."

There was sharp discussion, however, in several of the committee meetings and no little difficulty in agreeing upon the platform as finally adopted. Col. Roosevelt worked with the subcommittee in charge of the platform until late in the afternoon, going over their work of the two previous days and nights, and vigorously helping to mold the craft which at last proved acceptable to him.

No Negro Plank.

The platform did not take up the negro question. In that connection one of the interesting seconding speeches of the day was that of F. R. Glead of New York, a negro. Glead declared that the negroes had faith in the new party; faith that it would do all in its power to right the wrongs of the race.

"We stand by the platform," he said. "We stand by Col. Roosevelt's letter; we stand by his speech. And as we stood by him at San Juan Hill, so we will stand by you in November and fight for victory."

Gov. Johnson's Acceptance.

There was a prolonged demonstration as Col. Roosevelt concluded his brief speech accepting the nomination. It was renewed when Gov. Johnson was introduced. He said:

"It is with the utmost solemnity, the deepest obligation, that I come to tell you that I have enlisted for the war."

"Enlisting as I have in that contest for humanity that desired governmentally to make men better rather than to make men richer, there is no question of course but that of necessity I must accept any place where I may be drafted, and that I accept such a place as you have accorded me in the nation's history today (because again you are making history in this land); that I accept it with grateful heart and with the utmost singleness of purpose, to carry out as well as I may the little that may be my part to do."

Platform is Presented.

When the seconding speeches ended Chairman Beveridge recognized William Draper Lewis, chairman of the resolution committee, to present the platform. A round of applause greeted the reading of the direct primary, initiative, referendum and recall planks. The woman suffrage plank was roundly cheered. The recall of judicial decisions plank received a scattered cheer. Jury trials in contempt of court cases and a restriction of the use of the injunction in labor disputes recommended in the platform were received by the convention with enthusiasm.

The prohibition of child labor and the fixing of a minimum wage scale for women, which formed another plank, were given a hand.

Lewis finished reading the platform at 5:35 o'clock and a demonstration began. But Senator Beveridge cut it short and the platform was adopted without a dissenting voice.

Then Beveridge, stepping to the front of the platform, announced the adjournment of the convention "without delay."

"And thus ends," he said, "one of the three most notable occasions in the country's history."

A cheer followed and then the crowd broke for the exits. In a few moments an empty convention hall, littered with torn paper, with state standards leaning at curious angles, marked the end of the first national convention of the Progressive party.

COWHERD CHOSEN BY DEMOCRATS

Missouri Ex-Congressman Shows Strong Lead Over Major.

MCKINLEY REPUBLICAN CHOICE

Results of Primaries Show Opposing Candidates for Governor—Official Count Necessary to Determine Balance of Tickets.

St. Louis, Aug. 8.—Returns from 78 counties show John C. McKinley of Unionville has been nominated for governor by the Republicans and that the Democrats named William S. Cowherd of Kansas City over Elliot W. Major. Incomplete returns give McKinley 51,274, Quick 26,480, Cowherd 61,724, Major 53,564.

Complete returns will probably give Cowherd a majority of at least 10,000. Major showed strength in the county, but the 29,000 majority piled up in the largest cities was too large for Major's county majority to overcome.

McKinley made a runaway race easily defeating Leon Quick of St. Louis and A. Pat Murphy of Rolla.

Boone for Major.

Boone county, which was a Cowherd stronghold for years went for Major by 1,317. Clinton, Cowherd carried over Ball by 150, went for Major.

The attorney general carried Cole by 609. The same county gave Cowherd 400 in 1908. Cooper, in which Cowherd led by 50 votes, is Major by 200. DeKalb, Iron, Mercer, Miller, Pettis, Vernon and Henry counties, all of which Cowherd carried in 1908, gave substantial majorities to Major. Ball, according to the returns, has not carried a county.

William R. Painter is far in the lead for lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket. He will be nominated over Alexander Boon.

Heavy majorities in the cities promised the nomination for state treasurer to John B. O'Meara, but Edmund F. Deal rolled up a big vote in the county, which seems to assure his nomination.

The Opposing Tickets.

From the best returns available the two opposing tickets will be:

For Governor—W. S. Cowherd (Dem.), John McKinley (Rep.). Lieutenant Governor—W. R. Painter (Dem.), Hiram Lloyd (Rep.).

For Secretary of State—Cornelius Roach (Dem.), R. B. Silver (Rep.).

For State Auditor—John P. Gordon (Dem.), Green B. Greer (Rep.).

For Attorney General—Frank McAllister (Dem.), William C. Irwin (Rep.).

*For Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner—James T. Bradshaw (Dem.), John Curran (Rep.).

For Supreme Court No. 1—Stephens Brown (Dem.), Henry F. Bond (Rep.).

For Supreme Court No. 2—H. C. Timmonds (Dem.), John Kennish (Rep.).

*Result in doubt.

The congressional nominees from the best advices appear to be:

First District—Democratic, James T. Lloyd; Republican, none.

Second District—Democratic, William Rucker; Republican, Edward F. Haley.

Third District—Democratic, J. W. Alexander; Republican, Dr. J. H. Morroway.

Fourth District—Democratic, Chas. F. Booher; Republican, Claude V. Hickman.

Fifth District—Democratic, W. P. Borland; Republican, Isaac B. Kimbrell.

Sixth District—Democratic, C. C. Dickinson; Republican, none.

Seventh District—Democratic, C. W. Hamlin; Republican, Thomas C. Owen.

Eighth District—Democratic, D. W. Shackelford; Republican, none.

Ninth District—Democratic, Champ Clark; Republican, W. L. Cole.

Tenth District—Democratic, Maurice O'Connor; Republican, Richard Barthold.

Eleventh District—Democratic, William L. Igoo; Republican, Theron E. Catlin.

Twelfth District—Democratic, Michael J. Gill; Republican, L. C. Dyer.

Thirteenth District—Democratic, Walter L. Hensley; Republican, S. G. Nipper.

Fourteenth District—Democratic, Joseph J. Russell; Republican, in doubt.

Fifteenth District—Democratic, Pearl D. Decker; Republican, in doubt.

Sixteenth District—Democratic, Thomas L. Rubey; Republican, James P. O'Bannon.

Into Hanford Case Further.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Representative Berger, Socialist, author of the impeachment charges against former Judge Hanford of Seattle, urged upon Attorney General Wickersham prosecution of some of the men mentioned in the investigation. Mr. Berger said later he believed a federal grand jury at Seattle would take up the question.

Silk Weavers' Savings Gone.

Danielson, Conn., Aug. 8.—When the silk mills closed conservation prevailed among the hundreds of poor silk weavers, upon learning that the Windham County Savings bank, with 3,000 depositors, had been closed by the state bank commissioners.

Hodge and Billard Dispute Democratic Nomination for Governor.

JOHN S. DAWSON IS RENOMINATED

Stubbs and Curtis Each Certain They Are to be Republican Candidates for United States Senator.

Topeka, Aug. 8.—Arthur Capper who was nominated at the primaries as the Republican candidate for governor, stated that his majority will be between 40,000 and 50,000.

As to the remainder of the Republican state ticket, Sheffield Ingalls of Atchison seems to have won the nomination for lieutenant governor over W. H. Glenn and L. H. Westerman.

Dawson Defeats Griffin.
John S. Dawson, attorney general has been renominated, defeating Samuel Griffin by a good majority, judging from the returns from 31 counties.

Earl Akers seems to have beaten Walter Payne for state treasurer, but the returns are meager. W. C. Austin of Cottonwood Falls has been renominated for state printer over Frank Van Gundy of Richfield. No information is yet obtainable on the state superintendent of public instruction fight in which Lee Harrison of Wellington, Eli Payne of Emporia, and W. D. Ross of Topeka were candidates.

Hodges Appears Leader.
Though the returns from over the state are fragmentary and partial, the indications continue to point out that Senator George Hodges of Olathe has won the Democratic nomination for governor.

The Billard forces, however, claim they are certain Billard has been nominated.

The eight counties claimed for Billard are: Shawnee, 2,000; Wyandotte, 1,371; Leavenworth, 1,165; Atchison, 600; Jefferson, 148; Barton, 250; Crawford, 500; Marshall, 250.

Followers of Hodges claim their candidate has pluralities in more than 20 counties, as follows: Allen 299, Anderson 300, Bourbon 200, Chautauqua 50, Dickinson 300, Edwards 58, Elk 228, Franklin 400, Greenwood 87, Labette 500, Marion, McPherson and Miami, Norton 282, Nemaha 500, Neosho 500, Ness 109, Ottawa 300, Pawnee 200, Reno 500, Saline 500, Wilson, 500, and Clay.

Very meager returns are obtainable on the Democratic contest for United States senator, but the indications are that W. H. Thompson is leading, with Hugh Farrelly second.

Both senator Charles Curtis and Gov. Stubbs are claiming the Republican nomination for United States senator. Both are certain they have won. Curtis claims 85 legislative and senatorial districts out of the 165. Eighty-three districts are necessary for the nomination.

Gov. Stubbs claims that he will have from 90 to 95 legislative and senatorial districts.

There are nine counties which both Curtis and Stubbs are claiming.

The contest will be decided by legislative districts, and in some of these districts where there are two counties Curtis carried one and Stubbs the other.

Crowd Was Demonstrative.
Chicago, Aug. 8.—Standing on chairs, waving red bannanas and pounding on everything that would make a noise, the delegates and visitors at the convention cheered madly at the conclusion of Prendergast's speech.

BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more."

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it.

The Pirates' Cave

By Clara Inez Deacon

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

It was thoroughly understood when Miss Nettie Shields, eleven years of age, was permitted to accompany her sister Fanny, of twenty, down to Eagle's nest for a few weeks' stay with their aunt, that the young miss must behave herself.

Not that Miss Nettie Shields had ever been arrested for her conduct, but that she was headless and over-confident and almost satisfied that she knew it all. If she went out for a walk by herself she would follow a hand organ or a fire engine until she got lost, and if she started for the park to feed the squirrels she might bring up at the Battery to feed the fishes. She had solemnly promised to amend her ways and be no cause of anxiety to anyone, and she stuck to that promise for all of half an hour after arriving at the manor house. Then she met the coachman's son, a lad of twelve.

The city lass was looking at the country lad with her nose in the air and a pitying expression on her face when he walked up to her and said:

"You are not so muchy-much!"

"I am a hundred times more muchy-much than you!"

"Oh, you think so! Did you ever see a pirate's cave?"

"N—no."

"Well, I have. You may have lots of things in the city, but you haven't got a pirate's cave."

"Where is it?"

"That's telling."

"Young man, I want to know at once, and you point out that cave or there'll be trouble!"

"Hu! No kid can bluff me! That cave is full of gold and silver and sparkling jewels. I've seen 'em. I can go there any time and get a bushel. There are also pirate skulls and bones there. There is one diamond

"You Are Not So Muchy-Much!"

as big as my fist. When I heard you was coming down here I thought of taking you over to the cave and letting you pick out a few pearls and rubies for yourself, but now I won't. You are too snippy."

"Then you needn't!"

It was three days later that Miss Nettie got down on her knees to that bad boy and vowed to marry him when they grew up if he would take her to that cave. As a matter of fact, he had been told by a boy, who had it from another boy, that there was such a cave in the hills three miles away. He had lied about the rest of it, but he didn't propose to own up. He wanted to be a hero instead of an Uncle Rube, in Miss Nettie's eyes. He soon discovered that he couldn't be without setting out for the cave, and it took him a whole day to make up his mind. They must set out secretly, and if there was no cave a licking awaited him for sure on their return, and it might be bread and water for a week for the girl.

It was not until Miss Nettie had applied the epithet of coward several times that a start was made. The family dog was old and shabby and didn't care a cent about pirates' caves, but after much coaxing he consented to go along. The way was across the fields and through the scrub to a range of hills, and the afternoon was hot and the journey toilsome. The dog gave out first. When his aged joints began to creak he knew that he had had enough, and he headed back.

"I don't think I'd want to see pirate bones unless the dog was along," observed the boy.

"But I would," was the reply from the panting but not discouraged girl.

"I took the dog so that he could smell out the cave for us."

"But we'll smell it out for ourselves. We are going right on."

"I don't believe there is any cave."

"Oh, yes, there is. I think I have read about it somewhere. If you are a booby you can trot back home."

Forty rods further on the boy dropped behind a bush for two or three minutes and then legged it for home. He wasn't going to give a pirate's ghost a chance to take him by the throat. Miss Nettie missed him, but did not even call on him to return. She had set out for a cave filled with money and jewels, and she meant to reach it.

The hills were reached at last by a very tired girl. They were covered with pine and spruce and bowlders, but after a rest she started her climb and began looking for the mouth of a cave.

The limbs and briars soon made tatters of her dress, but if she thought of the financial damage she realized also that one single ruby of the bushels in the cave would buy her many new suits. No cave! No sign of a cave! A blue-jay now and then, and a chipmunk now and then, and after an hour the girl realized that she was lost and had come on a fool's errand.

The thing to do was to sit down on a rock and have a good cry to try to figure out how many days it would take for a healthy young girl to starve to death. Miss Nettie didn't do the proper thing, however. She sat down, but before the rest of it could follow a hunting dog burst through a tangle and discovered her and began to bark. He had kept it up for two minutes when a man not far away shouted:

"Go for him, Nero! Hold him till I come!"

Nero redoubled his noise, and pretty soon a young man slid down the bank with a crash and came to a halt to exclaim:

"Well, by George!"

"What kind of a man are you to sic your dog on a lost young lady?" was demanded as the girl rose up.

"Why—why, I thought it was a—woodchuck!"

"But it wasn't, you see!"

His cap came off and he gave his name as Robert Bonham. Miss Nettie could do no less than give her identity and explain how she came to be a Babe in the Woods. She laughed as she talked, and the young man laughed as he listened. He explained that he was also from the city and visiting relatives, and was out on the hills that afternoon for the sake of the tramp.

"Your name is Robert, but I shall call you Bob," said the little girl. "You can call me Net or Nettie. Of course you will see me home?"

"Oh, certainly."

"I want to get at that boy and roll him in the dust."

"Do you know that you are about six miles from the Eagle's Nest?" he asked.

"Mercy on me!"

"It's a mile or more to the house where I am stopping. We will go first and get a bite to eat, and then I will take you home in my auto."

The coachman's boy had returned to hide out, and although Miss Nettie was missed and inquired for he gave no information until dark. Then there was a rumour. A searching party started out with lanterns, and the women left at home were crying, and it had got to be nine o'clock when the lost girl was driven up by the finder.

In the interval Mr. Bonham was posted on the Shields family, particularly as to Fanny. Miss Fanny had never been in love; she had a sweet disposition; her aunt was going to leave her $20,000; she would make some one an awfully good wife, and a great deal more.

The cave-searcher knew that she had broken her word, and she was conscience-stricken over it. She must do the square thing to pay for the anxiety and trouble she had caused. She did it like a little brick. As soon as released from her sister's arms she introduced Mr. Bob Bonham, and with a lump in her throat added:

"Fanny, I was intending to marry him, for he is all that a trusting girl could ask for, but being I ran away—and got lost—and tore my clothes—and broke my promise—and am going to have a scrap with that boy, why, take him and love him and marry him!"

This speech was embarrassing enough, but had no fatal effects. It was just a year ago, and Mr. Bob Bonham has made such good use of the time that he can now say he is engaged to Miss Fanny Shields.

WOULD TEACH HOW TO EAT

One Man Bold Enough to Say That Americans Have Much to Learn in This Respect.

"By a little thinking a family of five can save $120 a year in the cost of living and yet have all that they want to eat, for it is not the quantity, but the proper combination and the proper mastication that the body needs," says W. Earl Flynn, commonly known as Daddy Flynn, who is lecturing in this city on health. He is an advocate of the no-breakfast plan and he says that the number of meals that are eaten is largely a habit.

"If you eat no breakfast, cut down the meat and in general regulate the intake according to the expenditure, you will be surprised with the result. Most people eat just as much when the old machine is not working as when it is doing the hardest kind of work. A person should not eat just to satisfy his craving for food. He should eat intelligently, having an object in view, as there are foods for different conditions, foods for thick and thin blood, foods that furnish necessary salts, foods that will make us fat and foods that will make us thin."

Mr. Flynn believes that the people should be educated so that they know the difference between a protein, a carbohydrate and the other necessary foods, for it is of more value, he says, to know what to eat than it is to have a knowledge of astronomy and many of the subjects that are taught in the schools. He says the animals are far ahead of man in this, for they know by instinct what they should eat under the conditions in which they are living.—Indianapolis News.

NORMAL WILL CLOSE

FRIDAY WILL BE LAST DAY OF THE SUMMER TERM.

SIX GET LIFE DIPLOMAS

No Closing Exercises, as the School Holds Only One Commencement Each Year—Picnic Abandoned.

The summer term of the Normal will close Friday, after a most successful term, and one that was largely attended. Examinations were given this week.

There are six who will receive the life diploma. They are Miss Iva Ward of Mound City, Miss Pearl Ross of Moberly, W. J. Breit of Maryville, John Davis of Maryville, John T. Boyle of Meriden, Kan., and Miss Ethel Breeden of Anity, Mo. A list of those receiving two-year certificates will be announced Friday.

No closing exercises will be held Friday of this term, as there is only one graduating exercises held a year, and that is in May.

At the Normal chapel this morning all the students attending the school promised to help out in agitating the mill tax amendment, which is to be voted on in November. The amendment means a great deal for the schools over the state.

President Taylor announced Thursday that owing to the wet weather no picnic by the boy students of the Normal would be held Thursday night.

RETURNED FROM CHICAGO.

F. P. Robinson, a Delegate to Progressive Convention, Came Home Thursday.

F. P. Robinson of this city, who was a delegate to the Progressive convention at Chicago this week, returned home Thursday morning. The Progressive party ticket is Roosevelt for president and Hiram Johnson of California for vice president. Mr. Robinson says the convention was largely attended, and the new party starts under most favorable conditions. Thomas Fleming of Graham also attended the convention.

Mr. Robinson stated that a convention would be held soon in Nodaway county to select a county ticket for the Progressive party. The state convention to select a state ticket will be held in St. Louis on September 3. Delegates from Nodaway county will be selected at the county convention to be held the latter part of this month.

BOOHER'S MAJORITY 1,105.

Unofficial Returns Gave the Congressman the Nomination by a Good Vote.

Unofficial returns received at Congressman Booher's headquarters in Savannah late Wednesday night gave the congressman the nomination by a majority of 1,105 over B. R. Martin. The following was the vote: Booher carried Platte county by 490, Atchison county by 384, Holt county by 67, Andrew county by 888, Nodaway county by 72, and Buchanan county outside of St. Joseph by 149, making a total of 1,960. Mr. Martin carried the city of St. Joseph by 855, giving Congressman Booher a majority of 1,105.

Mr. Martin put up a good race for congressman, and since he was defeated, he is strongly now for Booher.

The Horrible Example.

"My dear," said Mrs. Strongmind, "I want you to accompany me to the town hall tomorrow evening."

"What for?" queried the meek and lowly other half of the combine.

"I am to lecture on the 'Dark Side of Married Life,'" explained Mrs. S., "and I want you to sit on the platform and pose as one of the illustrations."—Tit-Bits.

SHOULD HAVE GONE DEEPER.

Geologist Told Hopkins People Indications Are Very Favorable.

The Hopkins Journal had the following:

The state geologist, Col. Bouhler of Jefferson City, was in Hopkins last week and spoke very favorably of the indications from the drilling of the deep well here.

He thinks if the hole had been sent down 200 feet deeper, the people would have been very agreeably surprised at the find.

The vein of coal struck is so good that there is talk of a company being formed to go down after it.

One well known Hopkins man offers to invest a thousand dollars and a well known farmer, east of town, offers to double this amount if a company is formed, so it seems that the prospecting proposition is not dead after all.

RURAL SCHOOL PROBLEM.

Is Solved in Consolidation of the District Schools.

Writers on educational problems from one end of the country to the other are endorsing the consolidation idea for public rural schools. In those states where the consolidated school has been tried for a year or more there cannot be found a resident in any of the districts which are served to raise his voice in complaint.

The consolidated school has by this unity an ample school fund and obviously good teachers and all modern facilities for teaching. The building itself has all the advantages for comfort and health found in city buildings.

The courses include practical farming, and when the student has completed his education he is of service to himself and his parents at once.

The consolidated school has bettered social conditions. The comfortable school rooms furnish splendid meeting places for the men and women of the district. Socials are held in the evenings and music and dancing frequently enlivens the residents. Missouri will have consolidated schools with the adoption of the school mill tax.

The rural schools have been neglected in this state, but with the mill tax in action Missouri will be able to hold her head as high as any other in the Union.

Seagirt, N. J.—From his own shorthand notes, Governor Wilson a few days ago dictated his speech of acceptance of sixty-five hundred words to an 18-year-old girl in less than one hour and a half. The stenographer was Miss Salome Lanning Tarr of 513 Jersey avenue, Jersey City, who has made half a dozen speed records in contests with the best shorthand writers in the country.

Miss Tarr went to the office of Walter Measday, the nominee's campaign secretary, at 5 o'clock in the morning, and before noon she delivered typewritten copies of the speech to the governor. In making a final revision of the speech, Governor Wilson found Miss Tarr had made only a few slight errors. Her stenographic record is 230 words a minute.—New York World.

GOVERNMENT PUSHING CLAIM AGAINST SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Property Worth $18,000,000 Was Turned Over to Railroad as Non-Mineral, Without Inspection.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Amazing details of the examination which resulted in releasing for occupancy by the Southern Pacific of $18,000,000 worth of California oil lands in 1904 were given by Edwin C. Ryan, former special agent for the United States general land office before the government special examiner in the case against the Southern Pacific and other companies for the recovery of the lands.

Ryan said that without seeing the ground he reported that 18 sections in one township in the Kern river field should be released from suspension of entry, although at the time there were nearly 100 producing oil wells on the remaining 18 sections of the township. Before making a report he came to Washington. It was then that he received the verbal instructions to report a mineral classification only on lands in which he found wells producing oil in paying quantities.

After the Ryan reports went in, the Southern Pacific filed agricultural claims for final patent on the 6,109-acre tract involved in the suit in September, 1904.

Willis N. Mills, assistant attorney general in charge of the oil case for the government, states that Ryan's testimony has shattered the defense that the government is precluded from recovering the lands because it had passed on them as non-mineral after examination and is now bound by that act.

The hearings were adjourned until September 4 at San Francisco.

FACED DEATH IN THE MOUNTAINS

Missouri Girl One of Party of Tourists Caught in Colorado Blizzard.

Steamboat Springs, Col., Aug. 8.—Facing death in a blizzard on the western slope of Ethel mountain, almost ready to collapse from exposure, the party of tourists who started for the summit of the mountain Friday night to see the sun rise Saturday morning has just been found by one of the three searching parties sent out from here. The four women of the party were exhausted almost completely and had to be held on the backs of their horses on the trip down after their rescue.

The party took provisions to last them two days.

Included in the party were Miss Edna Harmon, an 18-year-old girl of Liberty, Mo., and Miss Alice McCormick of Albert Lea, Minn.

Reform Measures Adopted.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Limited terms for civil service employees, the abolition of the commerce court and the retention of its five judges as extra circuit judges will be submitted to President Taft as provisions of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. All these proposals, already approved by the house, were adopted by the senate by a vote of 30 to 19.

Ask Aid for Mormons.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 8.—Two hundred Mormon refugees, American colonists in Mexico, are missing. When last heard from they were being pursued by a band of Mexican insurgents headed by Rogue Gomez. CHICKENS HAVE THE GOIT.

High Living is Said to Have Crippled This Year's Hatching.

St. Louis—Missouri chickens, than which there are no better in the world, are limping about their barnyards these days—some merely with a pained look in their eyes, others cackling aloud in their trials, and some scratching about for wood that might suffice as a crutch. They have the goit.

That is vouched for by a report to the state department of husbandry which shows the crop of spring chickens is being considerably reduced by the propensity of the elders to live too high.—New York Evening Telegram.

Beautiful is the Earth.

God has made this world very fair. He fashioned it in beauty when there was no eye to behold it but His own. All along the wild forest he has carved the forms of beauty. Every hill and dale and tree and landscape is a picture of beauty. Every cloud and mist-wreath and vapor-veil is a shadowy reflection of beauty. Every spring and rivulet, every river and lake and ocean is a glassy mirror of beauty. Every diamond and rock and pebbly beach is a mine of beauty. Every sea and planet and star is a blazing face of beauty. All along the aisles of earth, all over the arches of heaven, all through the expanse of the universe are scattered in rich and infinite profusion the life germs of beauty. All natural motion is beauty in action. From the mote that plays its little frolic in the sunbeam to the world that blazes along the sapphire spans of the firmament are visible the ever-varying features of the enrapturing spirit of beauty.—Anonymous.

TURKISH REVOLUTION BEGINS

SOLDIERS IN THE GARRISON AT OKHRIDA MUTINY.

Commandant Gives Notice That He Will Lead Army Against Constantinople.

Salonica, Turkey, Aug. 8.—The Turkish gendarmes in the garrison at Okhrida, Albania, mutinied and their commander, General Djemalrey, declared war in the name of the young Turks against the present government.

The commandant gave notice that he would lead an army against Constantinople and issued a proclamation calling upon all loyal young Turks to join his standard.

The rebels will attempt to force the abdication of the present sultan, who took the throne when the young Turks rose up against Abdul Hamid's regime several years ago.

Gen. Djemalrey issued orders to his followers to slay without quarter all the present Turkish authorities.

Reports reaching here from other quarters throughout European Turkey state that the revolutionary movement is concerted and that young Turks' leaders are rallying troops at a number of different places.

The present movement against the government is an outgrowth of the conduct of the war against Italy. It has been hastened by the tyrannical treatment of Turkish subjects by Turkish officials throughout European Turkey.

Okhrida lies on the north bank of Lake Okhrida and has a population of 14,000. It is 100 miles north of Janina and an important trading post.

Social Postponed.

IT'S ROOSEVELT AND JOHNSON

Progressive Party Names Two First Candidates in its History.

Prefix "National" in Name of New Political Body, is Dropped—Platform Adopted Omits Negro Question.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Singing "Onward Christian Soldier," and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the delegates to the first national convention of the Progressive party proclaimed Theodore Roosevelt of New York as their candidate for president and Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California as their choice for vice-president.

Marking a new departure in the proceedings of national conventions, the two candidates immediately were informally notified of their nomination, and in the midst of deafening cheers appeared before the delegates to voice their acceptance and to pledge their best efforts to the coming campaign.

The party formally christened itself "The Progressive Party," leaving out the prefix "national," by which it has heretofore been known, but provision was made for the recognition of "real" Progressives in any of the states by whatever name they should be locally designated because of state laws.

Debated Over Recess.

As has always been the case in national political conventions, the bulk of the work of the Progressive gathering was carried on in the committees. The only semblance of a conflict of opinion on the floor was a brief debate as to whether an hour's recess should be taken. The hour was not material, but as one delegate expressed it, "we just had to fight about something to make it a regular convention."

There was sharp discussion, however, in several of the committee meetings and no little difficulty in agreeing upon the platform as finally adopted. Col. Roosevelt worked with the subcommittee in charge of the platform until late in the afternoon, going over their work of the two previous days and nights, and vigorously helping to mold the craft which at last proved acceptable to him.

No Negro Plank.

The platform did not take up the negro question. In that connection one of the interesting seconding speeches of the day was that of F. R. Glead of New York, a negro. Glead declared that the negroes had faith in the new party; faith that it would do all in its power to right the wrongs of the race.

"We stand by the platform," he said. "We stand by Col. Roosevelt's letter; we stand by his speech. And as we stood by him at San Juan Hill, so we will stand by you in November and fight for victory."

Gov. Johnson's Acceptance.

There was a prolonged demonstration as Col. Roosevelt concluded his brief speech accepting the nomination. It was renewed when Gov. Johnson was introduced. He said:

"It is with the utmost solemnity, the deepest obligation, that I come to tell you that I have enlisted for the war."

"Enlisting as I have in that contest for humanity that desired governmentally to make men better rather than to make men richer, there is no question of course but that of necessity I must accept any place where I may be drafted, and that I accept such a place as you have accorded me in the nation's history today (because again you are making history in this land); that I accept it with grateful heart and with the utmost singleness of purpose, to carry out as well as I may the little that may be my part to do."

Platform is Presented.

When the seconding speeches ended Chairman Beveridge recognized William Draper Lewis, chairman of the resolution committee, to present the platform. A round of applause greeted the reading of the direct primary, initiative, referendum and recall planks. The woman suffrage plank was roundly cheered. The recall of judicial decisions plank received a scattered cheer. Jury trials in contempt of court cases and a restriction of the use of the injunction in labor disputes recommended in the platform were received by the convention with enthusiasm.

The prohibition of child labor and the fixing of a minimum wage scale for women, which formed another plank, were given a hand.

Lewis finished reading the platform at 5:35 o'clock and a demonstration began. But Senator Beveridge cut it short and the platform was adopted without a dissenting voice.

Then Beveridge, stepping to the front of the platform, announced the adjournment of the convention "without delay."

"And thus ends," he said, "one of the three most notable occasions in the country's history."

A cheer followed and then the crowd broke for the exits. In a few moments an empty convention hall, littered with torn paper, with state standards leaning at curious angles, marked the end of the first national convention of the Progressive party.

COWHERD CHOSEN BY DEMOCRATS

Missouri Ex-Congressman Shows Strong Lead Over Major.

McKINLEY REPUBLICAN CHOICE

Results of Primaries Show Opposing Candidates for Governor—Official Count Necessary to Determine Balance of Tickets.

St. Louis, Aug. 8.—Returns from 78 counties show John C. McKinley of Unionville has been nominated for governor by the Republicans and that the Democrats named William S. Cowherd of Kansas City over Elliot W. Major. Incomplete returns give McKinley 51,274, Quick 26,480, Cowherd 61,724, Major 53,564.

Complete returns will probably give Cowherd a majority of at least 10,000. Major showed strength in the county, but the 29,000 majority piled up in the largest cities was too large for Major's county majority to overcome.

McKinley made a runaway race easily defeating Leon Quick of St. Louis and A. Pat Murphy of Rolla. Boone county, which was a Cowherd stronghold for years went for Major by 1,317. Clinton, Cowherd carried over Ball by 150, went for Major.

The attorney general carried Cole by 600. The same county gave Cowherd 400 in 1908. Cooper, in which Cowherd led by 50 votes, is Major by 200. DeKalb, Iron, Mercer, Miller, Pettis, Vernon and Henry counties, all of which Cowherd carried in 1908, gave substantial majorities to Major. Ball, according to the returns, has not carried a county.

William R. Painter is far in the lead for lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket. He will be nominated over Alexander Boon.

Heavy majorities in the cities promised the nomination for state treasurer to John B. O'Meara, but Edmund F. Deal rolled up a big vote in the county, which seems to assure his nomination.

The Opposing Tickets.

From the best returns available the two opposing tickets will be:

For Governor—W. S. Cowherd (Dem.), John McKinley (Rep.).

Lieutenant Governor—W. R. Painter (Dem.), Hiram Lloyd (Rep.).

For Secretary of State—Cornelius Roach (Dem.), R. B. Silver (Rep.).

For State Auditor—John P. Gordon (Dem.), Green B. Greer (Rep.).

For Attorney General—Frank McAllister (Dem.), William C. Irwin (Rep.).

*For Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner—James T. Bradshaw (Dem.), John Curran (Rep.).

For Supreme Court No. 1—Stephens Brown (Dem.), Henry F. Bond (Rep.).

For Supreme Court No. 2—H. C. Timmonds (Dem.), John Kennish (Rep.).

*Result in doubt. The congressional nominees from the best advice appear to be:

First District—Democratic, James T. Lloyd; Republican, none.

Second District—Democratic, William Rucker; Republican, Edward F. Haley.

Third District—Democratic, J. W. Alexander; Republican, Dr. J. H. Morrow.

Fourth District—Democratic, Chas. F. Booher; Republican, Claude V. Hickman.

Fifth District—Democratic, W. P. Borland; Republican, Isaac B. Kimbrell.

Sixth District—Democratic, C. C. Dickinson; Republican, none.

Seventh District—Democratic, C. W. Hamlin; Republican, Thomas C. Owen.

Eighth District—Democratic, D. W. Shackelford; Republican, none.

Ninth District—Democratic, Champ Clark; Republican, W. L. Cole.

Tenth District—Democratic, Maurice O'Connor; Republican, Richard Bartholdt.

Eleventh District—Democratic, William L. Igoo; Republican, Theron E. Catlin.

Twelfth District—Democratic, Michael J. Gill; Republican, L. C. Dyer.

Thirteenth District—Democratic, Walter L. Hensley; Republican, S. G. Nipper.

Fourteenth District—Democratic, Joseph J. Russell; Republican, in doubt.

Fifteenth District—Democratic, Pearl D. Decker; Republican, in doubt.

Sixteenth District—Democratic, Thomas L. Rubey; Republican, James P. O'Hannon.

Into Hanford Case Further.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM KANSAS

Hodge and Billard Dispute Democratic Nomination for Governor.

JOHN S. DAWSON IS RENOMINATED

Stubbs and Curtis Each Certain They Are to be Republican Candidates for United States Senator.

Topeka, Aug. 8.—Arthur Capper who was nominated at the primaries as the Republican candidate for governor, stated that his majority will be between 40,000 and 50,000.

As to the remainder of the Republican state ticket, Sheffield Ingalls of Atchison seems to have won the nomination for lieutenant governor over W. H. Glenn and L. H. Westerman.

Dawson Defeats Griffin. John S. Dawson, attorney general has been renominated, defeating Samuel Griffin by a good majority, judging from the returns from 31 counties.

Earl Akers seems to have beaten Walter Payne for state treasurer, but the returns are meager. W. C. Austin of Cottonwood Falls has been renominated for state printer over Frank Van Gundy of Richfield. No information is yet obtainable on the state superintendent of public instruction fight in which Lee Harrison of Wellington, Eli Payne of Emporia, and W. D. Ross of Topeka were candidates.

Hodges Appears Leader. Though the returns from over the state are fragmentary and partial, the indications continue to point out that Senator George Hodges of Olathe has won the Democratic nomination for governor.

The Billard forces, however, claim they are certain Billard has been nominated.

The eight counties claimed for Billard are: Shawnee, 2,000; Wyandotte, 1,871; Leavenworth, 1,165; Atchison, 600; Jefferson, 148; Barton, 250; Crawford, 500; Marshall, 250.

Followers of Hodges claim their candidate has pluralities in more than 20 counties, as follows: Allen 299, Anderson 300, Bourbon 200, Chautauqua 50, Dickinson 300, Edwards 58, Elk 228, Franklin 400, Greenwood 87, Labette 500, Marion, McPherson and Miami, Norton 382, Nemaha 500, Neosho 500, Ness 100, Ottawa 300, Pawnee 200, Reno 500, Saline 500, Wilson, 500, and Clay.

Very meager returns are obtainable on the Democratic contest for United States senator, but the indications are that W. H. Thompson is leading, with Hugh Farrelly second.

Both senator Charles Curtis and Gov. Stubbs are claiming the Republican nomination for United States senator. Both are certain they have won. Curtis claims 85 legislative and senatorial districts out of the 165. Eighty-three districts are necessary for the nomination.

Gov. Stubbs claims that he will have from 90 to 95 legislative and senatorial districts.

There are nine counties which both Curtis and Stubbs are claiming.

The contest will be decided by legislative districts, and in some of these districts where there are two counties Curtis carried one and Stubbs the other.

Crowd Was Demonstrative. Chicago, Aug. 8.—Standing on chairs, waving red bandannas and pounding on everything that would make a noise, the delegates and visitors at the convention cheered madly at the conclusion of Prendergast's speech.

Guest From Oregon. Mrs. Vella Jamison of Eugene, Ore., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. J. C. Farrar, living north of Maryville. Mrs. Jamison is on her way to Monmouth, Ill., to visit her daughters.

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good.

One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need.

We urge you to try it.

The Pirates' Cave

By Clara Inez Deacon

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

It was thoroughly understood when Miss Nettie Shields, eleven years of age, was permitted to accompany her sister Fanny, of twenty, down to Eagle's nest for a few weeks' stay with their aunt, that the young miss must behave herself.

Not that Miss Nettie Shields had ever been arrested for her conduct, but that she was headless and overconfident and almost satisfied that she knew it all. If she went out for a walk by herself she would follow a hand organ or a fire engine until she got lost, and if she started for the park to feed the squirrels she might bring up at the Battery to feed the fishes. She had solemnly promised to amend her ways and be no cause of anxiety to anyone, and she stuck to that promise for all of half an hour after arriving at the manor house. Then she met the coachman's son, a lad of twelve.

The city lass was looking at the country lad with her nose in the air and a pitying expression on her face when he walked up to her and said: "You are not so muchy-much!"

"I am a hundred times more muchy-much than you!"

"Oh, you think so! Did you ever see a pirate's cave?"

"N—no."

"Well, I have. You may have lots of things in the city, but you haven't got a pirate's cave."

"Where is it?"

"That's telling."

"Young man, I want to know at once, and you point out that cave or there'll be trouble!"

"Hu! No kid can bluff me! That cave is full of gold and silver and sparkling jewels. I've seen 'em. I can go there any time and get a bushel. There are also pirate skulls and bones there. There is one diamond

"You Are Not So Muchy-Much!"

as big as my fist. When I heard you was coming down here I thought of taking you over to the cave and letting you pick out a few pearls and rubies for yourself, but now I won't. You are too snippy."

"Then you needn't!"

It was three days later that Miss Nettie got down on her knees to that bad boy and vowed to marry him when they grew up if he would take her to that cave. As a matter of fact, he had been told by a boy, who had it from another boy, that there was such a cave in the hills three miles away. He had lied about the rest of it, but he didn't propose to own up. He wanted to be a hero instead of an Uncle Rube, in Miss Nettie's eyes. He soon discovered that he couldn't be without setting out for the cave, and it took him a whole day to make up his mind. They must set out secretly, and if there was no cave a licking awaited him for sure on their return, and it might be bread and water for a week for the girl.

It was not until Miss Nettie had applied the epithet of coward several times that a start was made. The family dog was old and shaggy and didn't care a cent about pirates' caves, but after much coaxing he consented to go along. The way was across the fields and through the scrub to a range of hills, and the afternoon was hot and the journey toilsome. The dog gave out first. When his aged joints began to creak he knew that he had had enough, and he headed back.

"I don't think I'd want to see pirate bones unless the dog was along," observed the boy.

"But I would," was the reply from the panting but not discouraged girl.

"I took the dog so that he could smell out the cave for us."

"But we'll smell it out for ourselves. We are going right on."

"I don't believe there is any cave."

"Oh, yes, there is. I think I have read about it somewhere. If you are a booby you can trot back home."

Forty rods further on the boy dropped behind a bush for two or three minutes and then legged it for home. He wasn't going to give a pirate's ghost a chance to take him by the throat. Miss Nettie missed him, but did not even call on him to return. She had set out for a cave filled with money and jewels, and she meant to reach it.

The hills were reached at last by a very tired girl. They were covered with pine and spruce and bowlders, but after a rest she started her climb and began looking for the mouth of a cave.

The limbs and briars soon made tatters of her dress, but if she thought of the financial damage she realized also that one single ruby of the bushels in the cave would buy her many new suits. No cave! No sign of a cave! A blue-jay now and then, and a chipmunk now and then, and after an hour the girl realized that she was lost and had come on a fool's errand.

The thing to do was to sit down on a rock and have a good cry to try to figure out how many days it would take for a healthy young girl to starve to death. Miss Nettie didn't do the proper thing, however. She sat down, but before the rest of it could follow a hunting dog burst through a tangle and discovered her and began to bark. He had kept it up for two minutes when a man not far away shouted: "Go for him, Nero! Hold him till I come!"

Nero redoubled his noise, and pretty soon a young man slid down the bank with a crash and came to a halt to exclaim:

"Well, by George!"

"What kind of a man are you to sic your dog on a lost young lady?" was demanded as the girl rose up.

"Why—why, I thought it was a—woodchuck!"

"But it wasn't, you see!"

His cap came off and he gave his name as Robert Bonham. Miss Nettie could do no less than give her identity and explain how she came to be a Babe in the Woods. She laughed as he talked, and the young man laughed as he listened. He explained that he was also from the city and visiting relatives, and was out on the hills that afternoon for the sake of the tramp.

"Your name is Robert, but I shall call you Bob," said the little girl. "You can call me Net or Nettie. Of course you will see me home?"

"Oh, certainly."

"I want to get at that boy and roll him in the dust."

"Do you know that you are about six miles from the Eagle's Nest?" he asked.

"Mercy on me!"

"It's a mile or more to the house where I am stopping. We will go first and get a bite to eat, and then I will take you home in my auto."

The coachman's boy had returned to hide out, and although Miss Nettie was missed and inquired for he gave no information until dark. Then there was a rumour. A searching party started out with lanterns, and the women left at home were crying, and it had got to be nine o'clock when the lost girl was driven up by the finder.

In the interval Mr. Bonham was posted on the Shields family, particularly as to Fanny. Miss Fanny had never been in love; she had a sweet disposition; her aunt was going to leave her $20,000; she would make some one an awfully good wife, and a great deal more.

The cave-searcher knew that she had broken her word, and she was conscience-stricken over it. She must do the square thing to pay for the anxiety and trouble she had caused. She did it like a little brick. As soon as released from her sister's arms she introduced Mr. Bob Bonham, and with a lump in her throat added:

"Fanny, I was intending to marry him, for he is all that a trusting girl could ask for, but being I ran away—and got lost—and tore my clothes—and broke my promise—and am going to have a scrap with that boy, why, take him and love him and marry him!"

This speech was embarrassing enough, but had no fatal effects. It was just a year ago, and Mr. Bob Bonham has made such good use of the time that he can now say he is engaged to Miss Fanny Shields.

WOULD TEACH HOW TO EAT

One Man Bold Enough to Say That Americans Have Much to Learn in This Respect.

"By a little thinking a family of five can save $120 a year in the cost of living and yet have all that they want to eat, for it is not the quantity, but the proper combination and the proper mastication that the body needs," says W. Earl Flynn, commonly known as Daddy Flynn, who is lecturing in this city on health. He is an advocate of the no-breakfast plan and he says that the number of meals that are eaten is largely a habit.

"If you eat no breakfast, cut down the meat and in general regulate the intake according to the expenditure, you will be surprised with the result. Most people eat just as much when the old machine is not working as when it is doing the hardest kind of work. A person should not eat just to satisfy his craving for food. He should eat intelligently, having an object in view, as there are foods for different conditions, foods for thick and thin blood, foods that furnish necessary salts, foods that will make us fat and foods that will make us thin."

Mr. Flynn believes that the people should be educated so that they know the difference between a protein, a carbohydrate and the other necessary foods, for it is of more value, he says, to know what to eat than it is to have a knowledge of astronomy and many of the subjects that are taught in the schools. He says the animals are far ahead of man in this, for they know by instinct what they should eat under the conditions in which they are living.—Indianapolis News.
